

Benefiting a Unique, Local Non-Profit

The mission of Backpacks of Love is to eliminate hunger in school-age boys and girls in Central Virginia by providing food for their weekends.

Imagine leaving school on Friday and not having a meal until returning to school on Monday. This is the growing reality faced by children in the communities we serve.

Each week, volunteers prepare backpacks filled with "ready-to-eat" meals and produce to ensure that students and their siblings have food over the weekends. We work with teachers and guidance counselors at each school to identify those children in need, with backpacks delivered to the schools each Thursday. On Fridays, faculty and staff discreetly place the backpacks in the lockers of each child served by the program.

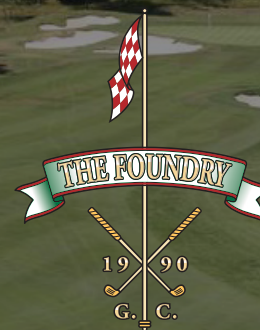

Since its inception in 2011, BPOL has distributed over 1.6 million meals, and 270,000 backpacks! But, there is still much more to do - 300,000+ kids still go hungry in Virginia. 100% of the proceeds of the charity tournament go directly to purchasing food and supplies for the students' backpacks.
